In accordance with Foundation Gift Policy, securities received as gifts will be sold as soon as possible after receipt. The value of the securities will be the closing price on the primary stock exchange where the securities are listed on the date the securities are delivered to or credited to the account of ASPF or its agent in negotiable form and registered in the name of The American School of Paris Foundation.

Brokerage fees, as well as changes in the value of the securities after transfer to ASPF as stated above, will be borne by the Foundation and will not affect the value of the gift credited to the donor.

Any information regarding the name, quantity and nature of securities will remain confidential.

*All contributions made to the ASP Foundation, a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization, are considered unrestricted funds that will be used to support the mission of the Foundation. The Board of Directors review all grants to ensure the funds are being used in furtherance of the mission which is to foster American education abroad by providing financial support for the American School of Paris as well as other educational programs within and outside of the United States.
